

eHealth Roadmap Allows Information Sharing Across Diversified Healthcare System

Client

The client is a regional IDN located in Central Florida. The organization is comprised of seven hospital clinics and thirteen ambulatory clinics, an extended network of physician practices, a home health organization, and a health plan.

Executive Summary

Following Portal Gap Analysis project, Revere was engaged to define requirements for an enterprise portal strategy which would promote patient and physician alignment, operational efficiencies, and revenue generation.

Business Challenge

Over time, the Client developed multiple web properties without any design and technology standards, content management, or governance in place. The client seeks to identify cross-organizational objectives in the development of a comprehensive web strategy that will eliminate current silos of data.

Solution

Revere interviewed key business unit leaders to understand the current state relative to communication, process and information hand-offs. Revere defined common themes/needs across the enterprise and identified technology enablers, including portal functionality to address those needs.

Results

Revere provided a roadmap for establishing the governance for sharing information assets more fluidly across the enterprise. The proposed solution includes establishing standards and frameworks within the enterprise to, in turn, integrate the legacy transaction systems with the interactive web (Web 2.0).
